“But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labour is not in vain.”

- 1 Corinthians 15:57-58 (ESV)

From “Rush-ians” to Walking in Love This Advent

Singaporeans are often jokingly called “Rush-ians” - often multi-tasking, rushing from one place to another, and filling every moment with activity. While this pace may feel normal, Mark Buchanan’s book God Walk: Moving at the Speed of Your Soul gently challenges us to ask what constant hurry is doing to our souls. Buchanan reminds us that the Christian life is repeatedly described in Scripture as a walk. Walking is not only a metaphor but a spiritual posture. It slows us down, trains our attention, and helps us notice God’s presence, the world beneath our feet, and the people walking alongside us.

Love, Buchanan suggests, cannot grow in a hurried life; it requires attentiveness, presence, and time. This truth is embodied in the life of Jesus. The Gospels frequently show Jesus walking with His disciples, travelling from town to town, and walking among the crowds. Along the way, He noticed those others overlooked - the sick, the grieving, the outcast. He listened, paused, touched, and responded with compassion. Jesus did not rush past people; He walked with them, allowing love to take shape through presence.

This Advent, as we reflect on the theme of Love, we are reminded that biblical love (agape) is not merely a feeling but a way of living - seeking the good of others through faithful, self-giving presence. Perhaps Advent invites us to slow our steps, resist hurry, and walk with others rather than past them. As we learn to move at the speed of our soul, we may discover that Christ is still walking with us – teaching us to walk in love.

“And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us.”
Ephesians 5:2
